

aQa opens on May 4: You need to know

April 29, 2020 | Simone Kral

The aQa team is offering a reduced take-away offer from 4 May 2020. To ensure that everything can be prepared in the appropriate quantities, you must register for a meal online in advance.

In order for the aQa-Team to be able to prepare enough or not too much lunch, it is necessary to register online (not as originally communicated via a list) by 6 pm the day before at the latest. The whole thing works via Doodle, which is placed on the intranet homepage on Thursdays for the following week. All employees at Dübendorf also receive an additional information via e-mail. The weekly menus can be found as usual from Friday afternoon around 15.00 on the aQa website of Eldora. For the start next Monday (4.5.) you can already doodle today and you will get the food selection tomorrow directly from Maja Wetli via e-mail.

A daily menu with meat and a vegetarian menu are available, both including a menu salad. In addition, coffee and tea, beverages, bakery products and kiosk items will be available. The aQa is open daily from 8:00 to 13:30, the food distribution starts at 11:00 and ends at 13:30.

Of course, all necessary hygiene measures and the specifications of the BAG are also implemented in aQa. The following adaptations have therefore been made: all menus are take-away only and payment should be made by card. To protect yourselves and them, the aQa team works with masks and gloves. The distance seating with will remain in the restaurant and also on the terrace and may not be changed.
