Abstract SUEZ is a global actor in environmental services and develops research and innovation projects to improve its performance, sustain its existing activities, and develop new products and services for diversification. In this talk, I will provide an overview of the major issues our clients are faced to and some examples of some research and innovation projects developed at group level to tackle these issues, as well as some priority partnerships. These actions cover the management of the whole water cycle, recycling and recovery of waste, and new markets, such as air quality management, in several locations, such as France, Singapore and Senegal.
