Abstract (*about Eawag) After nearly 16 years as Director of Eawag, I would like to share some impressions of my experience and the principles that have guided me. I believe that Eawag is well positioned to maintain its excellence in the context of new challenges and changing expectations. After providing some background on my view of how Eawag has developed and where we stand now, I would like to give most of the time to answer questions from the audience. Please bring your questions! I look forward to a lively discussion.
